

Motorization

	2000	2002	2004	2006	2008	2010	2012	2014	2016
Population of Berlin, total ¹⁾	3,331,232	3,336,248	3,333,108	3,348,805	3,362,843	3,387,562	3,469,621	3,562,166	3,670,622
Vehicles on the road, total ²⁾³⁾⁴⁾	1,425,278	1,438,345	1,419,217	1,421,687	1,266,879	1,304,550	1,344,876	1,368,868	1,409,642
Cars ²⁾³⁾⁴⁾	1,225,588	1,235,242	1,218,019	1,228,621	1,088,221	1,120,360	1,149,520	1,165,215	1,195,149
Cars per 1,000 inhabitants ²⁾³⁾⁴⁾	329	327	322	317	320	331	331	327	326

¹⁾ Inhabitants legally registered as primarily resident in Berlin (results from the population register).

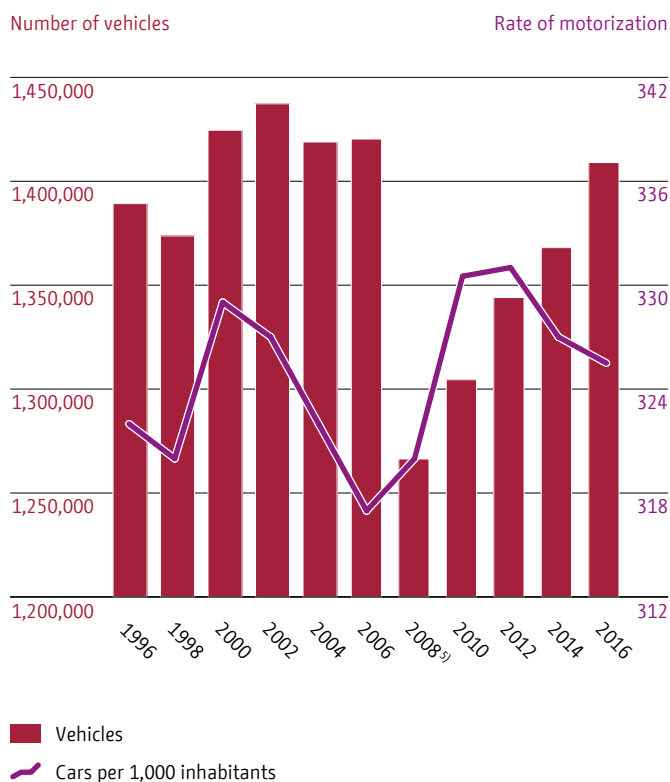

²⁾ New German Vehicle Registration Ordinance (Fahrzeugszulassungsverordnung); As a result of this legislation, from 2008, the vehicle population only contains 'flowing traffic' including seasonal licence plates. Vehicles temporarily taken off the road are not included.

³⁾ Due to EU-wide harmonisation of vehicle documentation, vehicles for special purposes are counted as passenger cars from October 2005.

⁴⁾ KBA data from 31 December; amend-ed baseline data for the calculation.

Source: Joint Statistics Office of the States of Berlin and Brandenburg; Federal Motor Transport Authority (KBA)

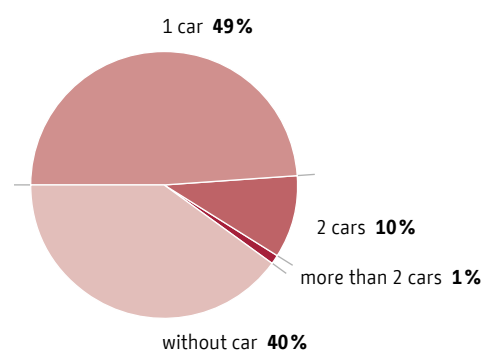

Motorization ⁵⁾

⁵⁾ New German Vehicle Registration Ordinance (Fahrzeugszulassungsverordnung); As a result of this legislation, from 2008, the vehicle population only contains 'flowing traffic' including seasonal licence plates. Vehicles temporarily taken off the road are not included.

Source: Joint Statistics Office of the States of Berlin and Brandenburg; Federal Motor Transport Authority (KBA)

Motorization of households (2013) ⁶⁾

⁶⁾ Mobility in cities – the SrV (System repräsentativer Verkehrsbefragung – Representative Survey System) traffic census is carried out at five-year intervals. The next survey will take place in 2018.

Source: System repräsentativer Verkehrsbefragung (SrV), TU Dresden