

Every year, Berlin spends over €300 million on investments related to road construction, on the construction of pavements and cycle paths, and on maintaining Berlin's road network. Of these costs, those for operation and maintenance exceed spending on road construction.

Further information on the costs and financing of traffic on the Berlin State Budget can be obtained from www.berlin.de/sen/finanzen/haushalt